Web Server
Alert group	HTML form without CSRF protection
Severity	Medium
Description	This alert requires manual confirmation Cross-Site Request Forgery (CSRF, or XSRF) is a vulnerability wherein an attacker tricks a victim into making a request the victim did not intend to make. Therefore, with CSRF, an attacker abuses the trust a web application has with a victim's browser. Acunetix found an HTML form with no apparent anti-CSRF protection implemented. Consult the 'Attack details' section for more information about the affected HTML form.
Recommendations	Verify if this form requires anti-CSRF protection and implement CSRF countermeasures if necessary. The recommended and the most widely used technique for preventing CSRF attacks is know as an anti-CSRF token, also sometimes referred to as a synchronizer token. The characteristics of a well designed anti-CSRF system involve the following attributes. - The anti-CSRF token should be unique for each user session - The session should automatically expire after a suitable amount of time - The anti-CSRF token should be a cryptographically random value of significant length - The anti-CSRF token should be cryptographically secure, that is, generated by a strong Pseudo-Random Number Generator (PRNG) algorithm - The anti-CSRF token is added as a hidden field for forms, or within URLs (only necessary if GET requests cause state changes, that is, GET requests are not idempotent) - The server should reject the requested action if the anti-CSRF token fails validation When a user submits a form or makes some other authenticated request that requires a Cookie, the anti-CSRF token should be included in the request. Then, the web application will then verify the existence and correctness of this token before processing the request. If the token is missing or incorrect, the request can be rejected.

Alert group	Cookie(s) without HttpOnly flag set
Severity	Low
Description	This cookie does not have the HTTPOnly flag set. When a cookie is set with the HTTPOnly flag, it instructs the browser that the cookie can only be accessed by the server and not by client-side scripts. This is an important security protection for session cookies.
Recommendations	If possible, you should set the HTTPOnly flag for this cookie.

Alert group	Email address found
Severity	Informational
Description	One or more email addresses have been found on this page. The majority of spam comes from email addresses harvested off the internet. The spam-bots (also known as email harvesters and email extractors) are programs that scour the internet looking for email addresses on any website they come across. Spambot programs look for strings like myname@mydomain.com and then record any addresses found.
Recommendations	Check references for details on how to solve this problem.

Alert group	Password type input with auto-complete enabled
Severity	Informational
Description	When a new name and password is entered in a form and the form is submitted, the browser asks if the password should be saved.Thereafter when the form is displayed, the name and password are filled in automatically or are completed as the name is entered. An attacker with local access could obtain the cleartext password from the browser cache.
Recommendations	The password auto-complete should be disabled in sensitive applications. To disable auto-complete, you may use a code similar to: `<INPUT TYPE="password" AUTOCOMPLETE="off">`
